(THE DOCTOR, TEGAN AND BIGON)

TEGAN: (TO THE DOCTOR IN AWE)
You were right.

THE DOCTOR: Four visits in every four thousand years, or so?

BIGON: No. The first visit was over thirty-five thousand years ago when Kurkurji was taken. It took twenty thousand years for the Urbankans to reach earth.
Monarch has doubled the speed on the ship on every subsequent visit.

ADRIC: (IN AWE) Yes. You last left Urbanka twelve hundred and fifty years ago.

THE DOCTOR: Then how can organic life endure that long?

BIGON: The only organic life aboard is in the Flora Chamber. (cont ...)

TEGAN: What's a nanometer?

THE DOCTOR: One thousand millionths of a metre.

TEGAN: No, I'm sorry, I just can't believe this

361. 4 T BIGON he indicates his wrist THE DOCTOR: Whether you like it or not, Tegan, you're looking at a fact, if not a fact of life. This ship carries the entire population of Urbanka. Nine billion silicon chips! /

BIGON: Not so many. Some are slaves ... robots. They have but one chip; the motor circuits. Those are they that wear the discs. /

MONARCH: If you wish, girl./
It is, however, a very emotive word.

ENLIGHTENMENT: Very Flesh Time.

ADRIC: Flesh Time?

ENLIGHTENMENT: It is the name Monarch gave to the primitive time. In your terms, the time of the chicken pox, of hunger and heart disease, of arthritis, bronchitis and the common cold.
